Teaching Seasons Pack

Thanks so much for downloading my Teaching Seasons pack. You will find the seasons sheet with cards to help your child to learn which month belongs to which season. I have included a season graphic in each season box to help the child remember.

Also included is a matching sheet to match each month to the proper season symbol. I like to laminate this sheet so the child can practice many times or just print it off a few times for added practice.

I've also included some season cards and month cards so the child can play a matching game.

To play put the month cards in one pile and the season cards in another pile. Each player, on their turn, picks one card from each pile and check to see if they're a match. Younger kids might find it easier to check using the seasons sheet.

If you want the child to work on memory skills try arranging each set of cards into a grid pattern instead of piles.

I love it when others share my homeschooling items. Please link to my post where you downloaded these materials. Please don't link directly to the PDF and please don't share or upload these materials to any other site. Thanks!
